

ACM SIGUCCS Management Symposium ■ March 29 - April 1, 2009

Advance Program

Association for Computing Machinery
 Advancing Computing as a Science & Profession
 Special Interest Group on
 University and College Computing Services
 2 Penn Plaza, Suite 701
 New York, NY 10121-0701

Advance Program

Join us in Nashville “Music City” Tennessee for the 2009 ACM SIGUCCS Spring Management Symposium. This symposium brings together a blend of IT leadership from large and small institutions representing a broad range of ideas, viewpoints, challenges, and solutions.

This year's theme “Fine-Tuning IT Solutions” reflects upon the many musical analogies relevant to IT management issues. Come prepared to chime in and be a part of engaging discussions on ways to harmonize your IT organization, deal with dissonance, and share special successes that give you a sense of perfect pitch.

Check out the interesting and engaging content of this symposium!

- Pre-symposium executive seminar “Effective Communications for Leadership and Organizational Development” by Bruce Taggart, Vice Provost, Library and Technology Services, Lehigh University
- Opening keynote “A Nurturer's Code to Live By for Developing IT Leaders” by Brian Voss, Vice Chancellor for Information Technology, Louisiana State University
- Plenary speaker “Picture This: Visualizing Today and Tomorrow” by Kelly Gaither, Associate Director, Research & Development Visualization and Data Analysis, University of Texas at Austin
- Presentations focused on facilitated discussions, consisting of three simultaneous tracks.
  - Effective Planning, Collaborations, and Governance
  - Innovation: Options and Implementations
  - Leadership, Professional Development, and Applying the “Soft Skills”
- Closing panel with the track chairs “An Orchestration of the Key High and Low Notes of Interest”

For more information and to register, visit our web site at www.siguccs.org

Advance Symposium Program - at a Glance

Effective Planning, Collaborations, and Governance • Innovation: Options and Implementations • Leadership, Professional Development, and Applying the “Soft Skills”

Monday, March 30

Executive Seminar (morning—separate registration required)

- Effective Communications for Leadership and Organizational Development
Bruce Taggart, Vice Provost, Library and Technology Services, Lehigh University

Opening Plenary and Keynote Address (early afternoon)

- A Nurturer’s Code to Live By for Developing IT Leaders
Brian Voss, Vice Chancellor for Information Technology, Louisiana State University

Parallel Sessions (late afternoon)

- Recruiting and Keeping Great Staff—What Works Today
- Orchestrating an Identity and Access Management Implementation
- Techniques for the 21st Century IT Leader

Tuesday, March 31

Plenary and Keynote Address

- Picture This: Visualizing Today and Tomorrow
Kelly Gaither, Associate Director, Research & Development Visualization and Data Analysis, University of Texas at Austin

Parallel Sessions (morning)

- MyIT Community: Building Community Across Organizational and Geographic Boundaries
- A Case Study in ASP Asset Management, Deploying School Dude at Earlham College
- “The Old Job - New Job Blues or Ode to Transition to a New Institution”

Parallel Sessions (late morning)

- NJEDge.Net is more than just bits and bytes
- Experiences Converting to an Open Source Enterprise Monitoring System
- From Good to Great, Moving your IT Organization to the Next Level

Parallel Sessions (early afternoon)

- Three Part Harmony - Governance, Collaboration and Communication
- eBooks, eTextbooks and eReaders
- Managing Projects from the Bottom

Parallel Sessions (mid-afternoon)

- Securing and Managing Data on the Desktop: Issues and Problems faced by Higher Education
- Architecting an Evolvable System by Interactive Object-Process Modeling
- Lincoln's Leadership Style and IT

Facilitated Panel Presentation with Q&A

- Strategies for Managing the Generation Mix in an IT Workplace

Wednesday, April 1

Parallel Sessions (morning)

- Implementing an Information Privacy and Security Team
- Meeting the Leadership Challenges of Today's IT Professionals
– Establishing IT Project Priorities

Closing Panel Presentation

In addition to the program, the symposium includes early evening Sunday and Monday receptions, a late evening hospitality suite, a continental breakfast on Tuesday and Wednesday morning Tuesday lunch, and Birds of a Feather sessions on Tuesday afternoon. There will be sign-ups for dinner on the town with old and new friends each evening. Throughout the symposium there will be fabulous opportunities for networking.

The DoubleTree Hotel Nashville, situated in the heart of downtown Nashville, is the perfect hotel for the symposium. Within walking distance you'll find numerous restaurants, gift shops, and an abundance of lounges with the live music for which Nashville is so famous.

The symposium rate of $149 single/double is valid March 28 - April 1, 2009.

For more information and to register, visit our web site at www.siguccs.org/Conference/Spring2009.

Symposium Registration Fees
	By 3/1/2009	After 3/1/2009
Symposium Only, Member of SIGUCCS or ACM	$435	$485
Symposium Only, Non-member	$510	$560
Executive Seminar Only, Member of SIGUCCS or ACM	$175	$225
Executive Seminar Only, Non-member	$225	$275
Guest (receptions, continental breakfasts, and hospitality suites only - no sessions, breaks or luncheon)	$100	$100